

Christine Hiester (she/her)

As an interspiritual Christian with a wide-reaching contemplative practice, I find home in the many ways the Spirit intersects with our human experience: meditation, artistic and musical practice, body prayer, the natural world, deep silence, communal spaces of listening, and through the many Divine narratives across traditions.

In my work as a spiritual companion, retreat facilitator, musician, and self-taught artist, I am buoyed and sustained by the great gifts of community, spiritual nourishment, and commitment to justice that are the practical ways the Holy is embodied in the Spirituality Network. My life and ministry are richer for the relationships I have made and the education I have received, and I seek to in turn support and invest in the work of the Network.

Our spiritual and perpetually-awakening community has so much to offer Columbus and the world- and I look forward to being a part of all the Spirituality Network is becoming.
