Bio:

Sitting with another in the presence of the divine is a gift of grace. Listening with silence, or movement, imagery or word, is a time when we discover where the Holy Spirit is working in our life. My role is to accompany you as you listen to where you are being led; to let the thinking self go silent and move into heart space, where you can hear the Divine speak. This is a time of grace that is filled with love; a time of letting go of the past, withdrawing your grasp of the future, and finding your soul space so you may hear the divine in all you are and all you do.
